Dear Terri

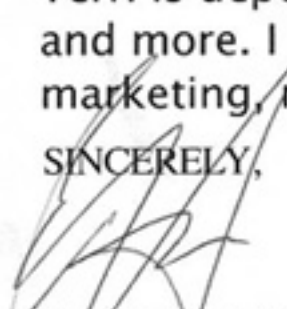

Terri Daniel began working for the Salvador Dali Gallery in June 2000 and spent seven successful years with us in dual roles as a public relations consultant and editor of our quarterly newsletter.

In her capacity as a PR consultant, she secured top-tier media coverage for our art exhibits in various locations around the U.S. She also was involved in event planning and production tasks that ranged from locating appropriate venues for our exhibits to hiring vendors and organizing opening night parties and press previews.

As our newsletter editor, she researched, wrote and organized 8 pages of text each quarter, creating each issue around newsworthy elements of interest to our readers. She is an extraordinary writer and editor and I could always rely on her to consistently deliver quality content.

Terri is dependable, committed, upbeat and competent in all these areas and more. I heartily recommend her for any position that involves marketing, media relations, copywriting or editing.

SINCERELY,

BRUCE HOCHMAN
GALLERY DIRECTOR
